NO. 56

R. HAMMOND WILL BE CITY CHIEF OF POLICE

WALTER BALLARD, MAYOR
ELECT, NAMES NEW OFFICIALS FOR COMING TERM

LAWRENCE IS FIRE CHIEF

Other Officials For New Administration
Named To Take Over
January 1

Walter Ballard, mayor-elect of Greencastle announced today the list of appointments effective at midnight on December 31. He named Ralph Hammond, living south-east of the city as the new chief of police. Other members of the police force will include Buck Nelson, present chief and John Brown. Claud Wimmer and Herbert Hinkle who have been serving, will go off duty at midnight when the new force takes over.

Another change announced was in the fire department head. William Lawrence, city fireman, will become chief of the fire department with the coming administration, succeeding Justin Godwin, present chief. No other changes will be made at the fire department, the personnel being the same as at present. It includes Mr. Lawrence, Mr. Godwin, O. W. Hill and John Friend.

There will be no changes in the city street force, Mr. Ballard announced. It is made up of William Alspaugh, commissioner, J. E. Perkins and Morton Allison.

Announcement was made some time ago that Frank Stoessel will become city attorney with the new administration, succeeding John H. Allee.

Mr. Hammond, the new chief of police, is well known in Greencastle, although he does not live within the city. His home is south-east of Greencastle. A few years ago he was a candidate for sheriff and is quite well known throughout the county. He comes into his new official position with the highest of recommendations.

Red Tanks Push Past Nazi Lines

RUSSIANS BREAK THROUGH INTO RICH UKRAINE AREA
COVERED BY HITLER

(By United Press)
The Red Army today broke through into the rich Ukraine—the part of Russia which Adolf Hitler especially covets—and rolled on in a winter offensive that appeared to be gathering momentum.

Moscow dispatches reported that Red Army tank columns had pierced the German lines in several sectors and had reached great open, rolling spaces that would be difficult for the Axis to defend. The drive carried across the Rostov-Voronezh railroad and reached points only 150 miles east of Kharkov.

The Germans lost 2,370 prisoners in overnight operations alone, indicating that the Nazis were becoming disorganized from the steady pounding they were taking. They were said to be surrendering in mass in some sectors.

Two powerful Russian armies were involved in the middle Don offensive. One was thrusting southward in the vicinity of Rossosh, 150 miles east of Kharkov, while the other one was in the area of Millerovo, 120 miles north of Rostov.

Choral Society Presented Messiah

MISS BOWLES AND PERRY RUSH WERE SOLOISTS; TO BE BROADCAST SATURDAY

Last night the High School Choral Society, directed by Gene Pennington, made its first public appearance when it presented Handel's "Messiah" before a large and appreciative audience. And the audience deserves an ovation for venturing out on such a bad night. The Choral Society sincerely appreciates the interest they showed.

The chorus of 150 voices did an unusually good job of singing the difficult choral numbers. Mr. Pennington deserves a great deal of praise and credit for the fine work he has done with this group.

Miss Edna Tyne Bowles and Perry Rush were excellent as soloists and

DePauw Will Take Phi Delta House

ONE OF THE COMING NAVY
UNITS FOR OFFICERS WILL OCCUPY RESIDENCE

DePauw University will take over the Phi Delta Theta fraternity house here for the duration of the war for use as a hall of residence for men. Louis H. Dirks, DePauw dean of men announced today following completion of negotiations with that organization.

The move was made necessary by the assignment of officers and men in the naval flight preparatory school, scheduled to open here January 7, to quarters in Florence Hall and Locust Manor, heretofore operated as halls of residence for college men by the university.

Members of Phi Delta Theta were quick to take advantage of the university's offer to use the Phi Delta house, because the impending draft of college men in the reserves and 18 and 19 year olds by selective service threatens curtail the number of fraternity men left in college.

When the university takes over the Phi Delta Theta house at the opening of the new semester January 6, the Phi Delta plan to move to smaller quarters in the Black residence, located just east of the Rector Funeral Home, on Washington Street. Fourteen members and the house mother will reside there. Other members will live out in town.

Locust Manor will be turned over to the navy for use as administrative headquarters. Florence Hall will house approximately two-fifths of the 600 navy cadets, while the others will live in Longden Hall, which during the fall semester was a residence hall for women.

150 DePauw Men To Finish Term

DEAN BARTLETT SAYS MEN WHO ARE IN RESERVE WILL COMPLETE SEMESTER

DePauw University's 150 men enrolled in the army enlisted reserve corps program will be allowed to remain in college during the semester, according to Dean Edward R. Bartlett, armed services representative on the DePauw campus.

Dean Bartlett said, in making the announcement, that word from the American Council on Education indicated that the call for men in the enlisted reserve corps would not come until after January 15 and that they would be allowed to complete the semester for which they were then enrolled.

Under DePauw University's accelerated program the fall semester was completed December 22. Enrollment for the spring semester will be held January 6. In consequence, DePauw enlisted reserve corps men will remain in school until the end of the spring semester on May 16.

Some DePauw men enlisted in the reserve corps sent their belongings home at the conclusion of the first semester in the belief that they would be called soon after the opening of 1943 and would have in chance to complete the school year.

The American Council on Education, from whom word concerning the enlisted reserve corps was received, is the official body which interprets the army's specialized training program to educational institutions.

BRITISH NAVY PLANES ATTACK JAPANESE BASE

PLANES CARRIER BORNE

Britain Revealed Weeks Ago The Presence Of Powerful Fleet In Indian Ocean

LONDON, Dec. 23 (UP)—Planes of a British Naval force, opening offensive operations 660 miles northwest of Singapore, have made a heavy attack on the Japanese base at Sabang Island off the northwest tip of Sumatra in the Netherlands East Indies, the Admiralty announced today.

Plane crews saw large explosions which were followed by fires, the Admiralty said.

Naval forces operating from the bay of Bengal carried out the attack, which the Admiralty emphasized was heavy on Sunday night.

All planes returned safely. While Gen. Douglas MacArthur's men were driving the Japanese into the sea in the Buna area of New Guinea, the American Marines and the army were holding Guadalcanal Island in the southern Solomons as an eventual offensive base and the British and Indian army of Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell marched back into Burma, the Royal Navy went back into the tragic theater of action from which the Allies were thrown in the early days of the Pacific war.

It was indicated that the planes which made the attack were carrier borne. Britain revealed weeks ago that it now had a powerful fleet in the Indian ocean.

Sabang, a free port on tiny Sabang or Pulo Weh Island, apparently had become a major Japanese base.

Lying 308 miles west of Penang off the Malay coast, it is in peace time the first port of call in the Malay Archipelago for vessels from Europe. It is at the western entrance to the Malacca strait.

MAN SENTENCED HERE ARRESTED FOR FORGERY

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 23 (UP)—Ralph Kanarr, 28, was arrested on forgery charges at Richmond yesterday after eluding police for more than a year.

Don Stiver, superintendent of state police, said Kanarr's bad checks totalled more than $1,000. He preyed upon feed dealers over Indiana until one of his former victims at Richmond recognized him and notified police.

Stiver said that Kanarr, who was sentenced to six months for forgery at Greencastle in June 1940, was wanted for questioning at Cumberland, Rushville, Knightstown, Milan, Metamore, Greensburg and Waldron. He is being held in Wayne county jail.

Manpower Draft Will Be Sought

REGISTRATION OF MEN AND WOMEN WILL PROBABLY BE
FEATURE OF NEXT YEAR

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—(UP)—The administration plans to ask Congress when the time is considered "ripe" to enact legislation permitting drafting of manpower and compulsory registration of women, it was learned today.

Chairman Paul V. McNutt of the War Manpower Commission evaded a direct answer to the question at his recent press conferences whether drafting of manpower and registration of women were being considered.

It was learned, however, that both points are considered essential to the success of any manpower program. When Congress is asked to act will depend upon how soon the public and Congress appear ready to give the proposal favorable consideration.

The program of persuasion now being used to move workers from non-essential to essential industries and to agriculture has been meeting with some success, it was said, but manpower officials are aware that full success can be attained only through some compulsion.

Women must fill jobs in the war industries more and more as the size of the armed forces grows, thus making registration of them for war service necessary. It was expected that women in great numbers would voluntarily enter in war factories and at other essential jobs. The registration, however, would permit placing them in the job where they can provide the best effort, as well as make available those who could, but are not filling war jobs.

COVERS MANY PAGES

PUTNAM COUNTY AGENT

Report By Mr. Grimes Of Interest To
All Residents Of This City And Community

The very great effect of war conditions upon the activities of the agricultural and associated groups of the county, during the calendar year just closing, is set out in the annual report of David L. Grimes, county farm agent. As head of the farm extension work, he has had personal contact, in a directional capacity, with the widely augmented work. In his narrative report, just completed, he says:

"Numerous war boards and committees have been functioning during the past year, including the Office of Civilian Defense, the Selective Service, U. S. O., rationing board, farm machinery rationing committee, committee on defense transportation, war bond committees, scrap committee, and the county war chest.

"The county extension office has been directly connected with each of these boards and committees, and it is needless to say that each has had its effect on the county as a whole. The labor situation is probably affected more by the war than any other condition. However, this situation has been helped a great deal by the cooperation and co-ordination of local facilities. The officials of the Indiana State Farm which is located in this county have used their inmates to assist farmers during the hay-making season. Many high

Board Explains Fuel Oil Coupons

INFORMATION ON RATIONING
WILL BE HELPFUL TO ALL USERS

There have been many questions about the value of the coupons used for fuel oil for heating homes and about the heating periods. The Rationing Board is giving the following information to help clear up these questions.

The local rationing office received a telegram Tuesday from OPA saying that Period 3 fuel oil coupons are valid December 23, value eleven gallons.

There are two classes of coupons used for home heating—Class 1 Consumer Coupons and Class 2 Consumer coupons. Class 1 Consumer Coupons are issued to those consumers who use less than five thousand gallons of fuel oil for home heating for the heating year which runs from October 1 to September 30. Class 2 Consumer Coupons are issued to those consumers who use more than five thousand gallons of fuel oil for home heating for the heating year which runs from October 1 to September 30.

Putnam county is in Zone B and the heating year is divided into five periods as follows:

Period 1 Oct. 1, to Dec. 15, 1942
Period 2 Dec. 16, 1942 to Jan. 5, 1943
Period 3 Jan. 6, to Feb. 6, 1943
Period 4 Feb. 7, to March 12, 1943
Period 5 Mar. 13, to Sept. 30, 1943

Class 1 Consumer Coupons are issued on Form OPA R-1105B. On the left side of this coupon sheet the coupons are numbered by Periods and printed as ONE UNIT coupons. At the present time, the value of each one of these ONE UNIT coupons is ten (10) gallons. All these coupons should be used only during the periods for which they are marked. On the right side of this coupon sheet the coupons are called Gallon Coupons and consist of twenty-five one-gallon coupons and five five-gallon coupons, making a total of fifty gallons.

Class 2 Consumer Coupons are issued on Form OPA R-1106 B. On the left side of this coupon sheet the coupons are numbered by Periods and printed as ONE UNIT coupons. At the present time, the value of each one of these ONE UNIT coupons is one-hundred (100) gallons. All these coupons should be used only during the periods for which they are marked. On the right side of this coupon sheet the coupons marked I-Gallon coupons, 5-gallon coupons, and 25-gallon coupons, making a total of five-hundred (500) gallons.

ELMER SPENCER WRITES WIFE FROM CASABLANCA

Mrs. Evelyn Shuck Spencer, a clerk at the Putnam County Selective Service office, was a very happy young woman Wednesday morning when she received a letter from her husband, Elmer Spencer, who was captured in the Allied invasion of North Africa. It was the first word from him since news dispatches carried the story of the invasion and his capture by the French on November 15.

The letter was dated November 21, six days after he was taken prisoner and then released when an armistice was declared by the French and British-American forces. According to Spencer, who is in a military police company, he is living in a millionaire's club at Casablanca. He rides a bicycle to work and states that there are very few American-made autos in the city which has a population of 150,000. He says the French people are very cordial to the Americans.

Spencer's letter was censored by Lieut. E. V. Wellman who gave the order for his men, including the local soldier, to surrender in the harbor at Casablanca when they found themselves under the menacing guns of a French destroyer. Lieut. Wellman had some toes shot off during the fighting.

As Mrs. Spencer expressed it, the letter will be her "best Christmas present."

ALLIED FORCES DRAWING NET ON JAPS AT BUNA

PROGRESS IS SLOW BECAUSE OF INTRICATE DEFENSES
MADE BY THE JAPS

BEACH HEAD IS ELIMINATED

Air Activity Slightly Reduced, But Allied Planes Range Far And Wide In The Area

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Dec. 23.—(UP)—Desperate Japanese resistance continued today in the Buna area of New Guinea as two allied forces came within a mile of closing pincers now biting through the enemy's remaining Buna beach head.

The allied communique said Australian and American forces engaged in the operation were making relatively slow progress because of the intricate, thoroughly prepared positions of the enemy.

It was revealed that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's units moving against the other important Japanese beach head at Sanananda had advanced half a mile down the truck road from Soputa and that American troops were in action with Australians in the Amboga river area west of Gona, where the mopping up is in progress. The inland allied force, which is led by tanks, crossed Sinemi creek and was threatening the eastern end of the main Japanese air strip in the Buna area. A smaller air strip was occupied Sunday.

A coastal force was attacking from the Buna beach. This group had to contend with the natural obstacle of a creek, at the mouth of which were several islands on which were snipers.

The inland force reported that it was still encountering strong pillboxes and log emplacements similar to those overrun last Friday and Sunday.

Air activity was somewhat reduced, but allied planes ranged far, backing up patrol activity in the Amboga river area, nine miles up the coast from Buna mission and three and one-fourth miles west of the captured village of Gona. Heavy bombers attacked Arawa, near Gasmata on New Britain island, hitting a medium sized cargo vessel and starting fires which gutted the ship.

The Japanese Buna beach head, which stretched about three miles from the Buna mission to Cape Endiander, had been almost eliminated in the four days of whirling campaign which began last Friday. The 13-ton General Stuart tanks placed in action then were able to batter down strong emplacements against which the infantry had been ineffective.

When this area is occupied, MacArthur's forces can concentrate on the next Japanese beach head at Sanananda, two and one-fourth miles up the coast. The Sanananda area has not figured in ground operations because a mixed Australian and American force approaching it along the Soputa-Sanananda truck road has been held up by a Japanese outpost about two miles inland.

The allied forces have by-passed the outpost.

THREE ON WRECKED BUS

Mr. Thomas spoke of the gyrations of the bus before it reached a standstill as being terrifying to the passengers within it.

CIRCUIT COURT NOTES

In the trial of Fay Miles on a statutory charge, in the Putnam Circuit court this week, the defendant Miles was put on the witness stand yesterday afternoon as the first witness for the defense. In his examination in chief, conducted by his attorneys, Hughes & Hughes and M. J. Murphy, he related the story of his life in so far as there is any connection at all between the incidents of his life and the present situation in which he finds himself.

Miles was on the stand at the opening of the hearing this morning, the prosecutor, Rexell A. Boyd questioning him closely on practically every statement he had made when questioned by his attorneys. He stoutly maintained he had been at the home of Mrs. Morgan, a relative, all of the nights on which he is charged with having committed the offense charged in the affidavit. He denied having worn articles of clothing which he was charged with having on at the time of the offense, and at other times, by witnesses for the prosecution. One witness said he wore a lumber jacket and he denied owning such a garment or ever having worn one. He denied wearing a hat at such time, stating he seldom had one on. This morning, he told of his employment by the Works Progress Administration and an earlier similar organization, since 1932, until recently. He had a record for the WPA of naturalization matters in this county, working in the court house, and doing other work for federal agencies.

VARIOUS ITEMS SCARCE IN STORES DUE TO WAR

"All I can sell you is one piece," said a grocery store clerk to a customer yesterday, who had asked for half a dozen bars of a certain candy.

The restriction applies, in some form or another, to practically all varieties of candy, and also to chewing gum and to chocolate in any beverage form. Racks in stores which formerly were filled with various kinds of chewing-gum now have none at all or else only a few kinds, and sales of them are limited.

Chocolate in the form of cocoa of any variety, is rapidly passing into the "hard-to-get" classification, in response, in part, to the greatly increased demand for it as a substitute for the rationed coffee. The next date for the purchase of the limited amount of coffee permitted under the rationing is Jan. 4, and by that time coffee-addicts will be having the jitters. The curtailment in coffee applies to all forms in which it has been bought, to the powdered form, and the forms in which the caffeine is removed for those who can't take it and sleep.

Chewing gum is scarce, dealers say, largely because of the difficulty experienced in importing the necessary chiclet gum. With a rationing of meat impending, the amount for each person to be not more than 2 1-2 pounds each week, including bones and fat, added to the existing rationing of sugar and coffee, Putnam county citizens, along with all others of the United States, will begin to appreciate the fact that our nation is at war, with a rapidly increasing army of our young men in military camps and in actual combat.

A poor second to professional service, utilized by the department of census are the types of employment listed under trade, with only 161 interested. Sixty-two plan a general business career, while 29 hope to be purchasing agents or buyers, 18 advertisers, 16 salesmen, 13 executives, and 8 merchants and dealers.

Forty-five expect to enter public service, with 25 slated for service in the armed forces and 18 hoping for government employment. Thirteen plan to enter domestic or personal service, all girls who look forward to a career of homemaking.

Agriculture and animal husbandry will draw 6, with another 6 entering the field of manufacturing and mechanical industries. Five will undertake clerical occupations.

Most alarming portion of the report, next to the preponderance of those who expect to enter the professional field, was that which stated that 320 were not certain enough of their occupational interests to indicate a preference.

ANNUAL REPORT

chool students assisted in tomato picking. The service of the WPA and employment service also were used.

"Economic conditions have been gradually growing better in the county during the past years, which has been reflected in the conditions in the homes. The home conditions have been improved through the combined influence of all agricultural agencies working within the county. Prices of farm products have risen during the past year and farmers are planning to take advantage of their increased incomes to pay off old debts and put themselves in condition to meet whatever emergencies arise after the period of high prices are over. Farmers also are doing their bit by the purchase of war bonds and participation in other war activities.

"For the best extension organization it is necessary to have the combined ideas of all who are interested in agriculture one way or another in order to get the most cooperation and keep unity of thought and action within the county. Therefore, our extension organization committee consists of an extension committee composed of representatives from each of the project committees and also each of the cooperative agencies within the county."

In his report, Mr. Grimes names many individuals and organizations which have worked with the county agricultural groups throughout the year.

FURNISH RED CROSS UNIT
The American Red Cross today received an expensive and unusual Christmas gift because the 10,000 girl employees of the G. C. Murphy Company "Five and Ten Cent" stores originated a "Million Dollar Idea."

In only four weeks time, the girls acting entirely on their own initiative, raised $21,000 in voluntary contributions and bought eleven mobile field units for use by the American Red Cross in ten different cities of the United States where they were needed most.

The idea had its beginning on a November evening when a group of girls met in committee at the home office in McKeesport, Penna. One of the girls pointed out that the girls were already going their bit with contributions to war agencies but each employee might welcome a chance to do something extra that would emphasize their determination to help win the war. "Wouldn't it be nice if we could buy an ambulance, one of the girls suggested."

The idea took fire and in a few short days spread to every girl in the vast Murphy Syndicate. There was no elaborate sales program outlined but the office girls themselves began canvassing every Murphy store with letters and home-made bulletins, also appointed a chairman in each store. Miss Lula Mae Estep was appointed chairman in charge of the campaign here in Greencastle.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Lillie Mae Prichard

"Come with me," said a low sweet voice. Night has folded her sable wing, Up where the ransomed ones rejoice.

And join in the songs they sing."

As the clock chimed six o'clock A. M. Central Standard Time, Dec. 10, 1942, Lillie Mae Prichard softly and gently answered her Maker's voice, "It's enough! Come up higher!"

Today, we drop anchor for another, who has sailed down the stream of many years and arrived at the final port.

Lillie Mae McAninch, daughter of David and Mary Jane Wood McAninch, was born in Putnam Co., Indiana, April 11, 1870. At the time of her death she was 72 years, 7 months, 29 days old.

Mrs. Prichard became a member of the Union Valley Baptist church at the age of twenty. She was a faithful and useful member as long as her health permitted. She was united in marriage to Leslie Prichard, Sept. 16, 1890. They observed their 50th wedding anniversary in 1940. This was a happy union as they walked through the years, hand in hand, sharing each others joys and sorrows, until she was called away.

This union was blessed by two sons, Dora and Gilbert, who were the joy and pride of her heart.

Her every day life is too well known in this community to need much comment. The one characteristic which stands out very clearly in our memory is the patience and kindness with which she treated everyone. Three words which had a controlling influence in her life might be selected are, self-sacrifice, righteousness, and love. Her untiring sacrifice and never failing love is indelibly stamped on the hearts of her family and friends. Home, husband, and sons, were her chief concern and it was her joy to provide them with all possible comforts of life.

A brief sketch of her life would not be complete without mention of how she took her aged father and mother into her home and how willingly and patiently cared for them. No task was too hard or the hours too long for her to administer assistance to those whom she loved.

Besides a host of friends and relatives there mourns the passing of this good woman a devoted husband, two sons, and their wives, Dora and Dorel, and Gilbert and Gladys, one granddaughter, Wanda, one grandniece, and one brother, Dora McAninch and sister-in-law, Emma McAninch.

"Down through life's waters, shilly and deep. Where its black billows coldly sweep, He leadeth me!"

Still waters may not always flow; And, while the wild winds fiercely blow, I'll fear no evil while I know He leadeth me!"

But should my path be good or ill, O'er rugged steep through waters chill, My heart shall safely trust Him still, He leadeth me!"

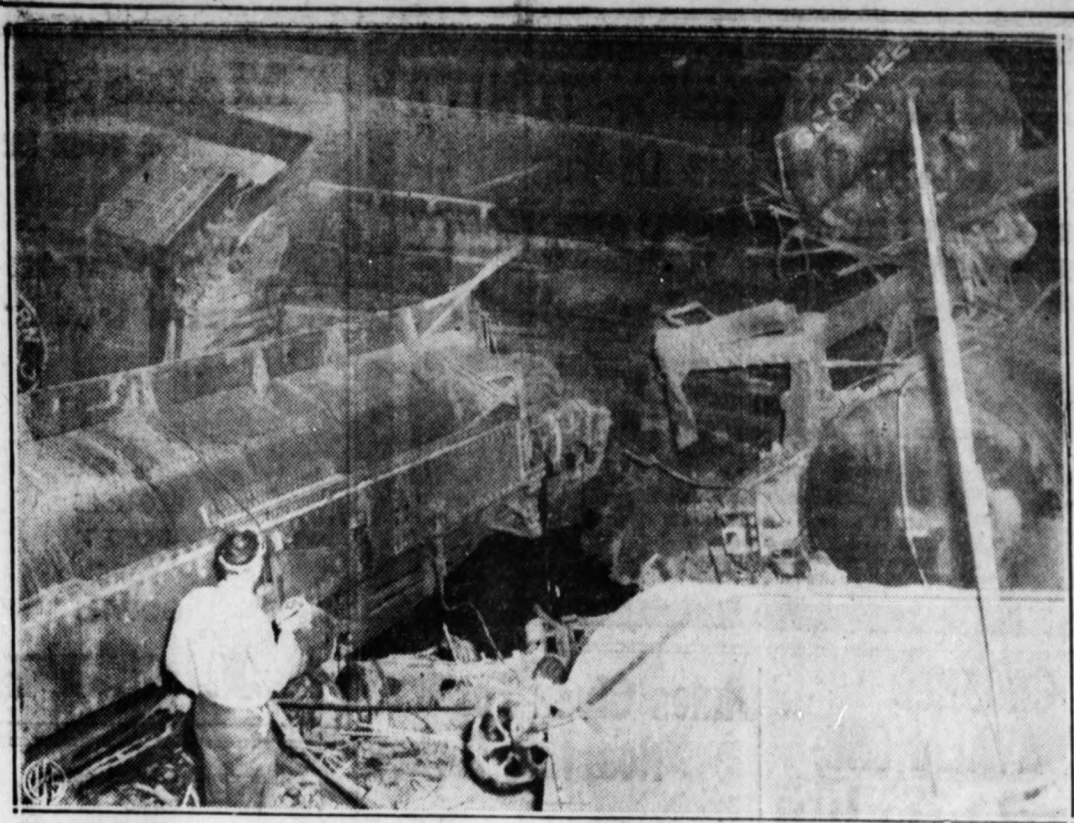

Er'n when I pass through Death's dark vale, Where earthly love and help must fail, He leadeth me!"

To the blest home His hand hath made, Where death nor sin can e'er invade, He leadeth me!"

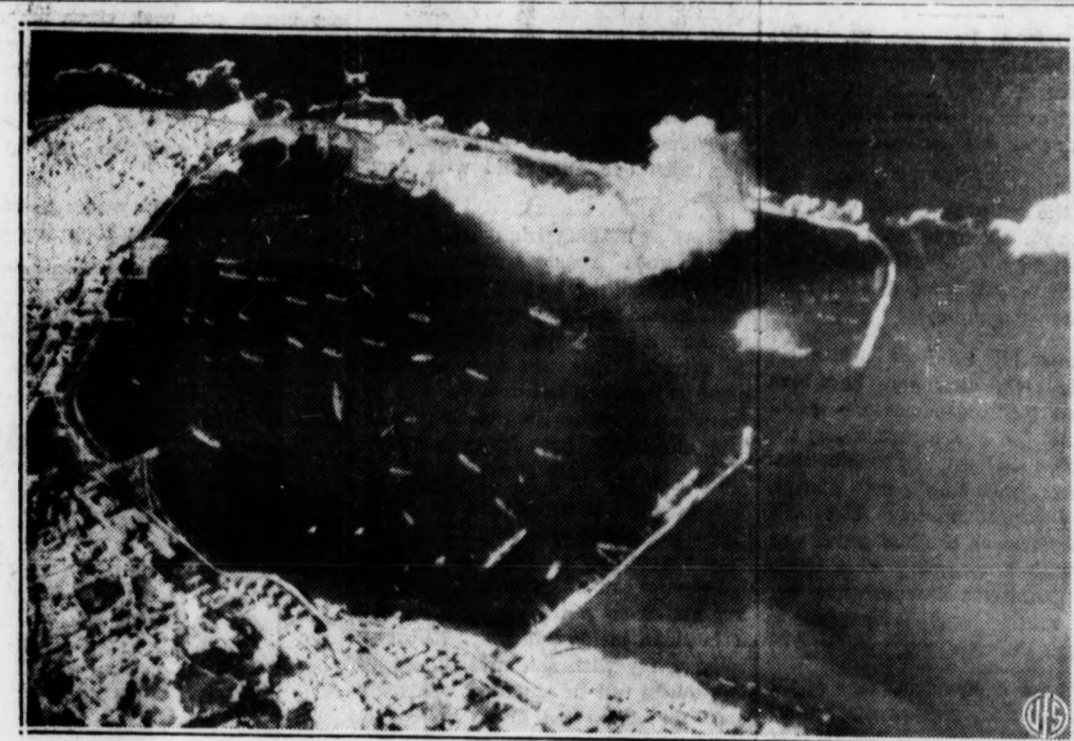

Card Of Thanks
We wish to express our deepest appreciation and gratitude to the trustee, faculty members, high school, grade school, janitor, bus drivers, and friends for the beautiful floral offerings.

Especially do we wish to thank the ministers, Rev. Masten and Rev. McCamrack, the Girls' Glee Club, and Miss McCamrack, Mr. Keller, pianist Helen Foster, Dr. F. N. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reed, and our neighbors and friends for their kindness during the illness and death of our wife, mother, grandmother and sister, Mrs. Lillie Mae Prichard.

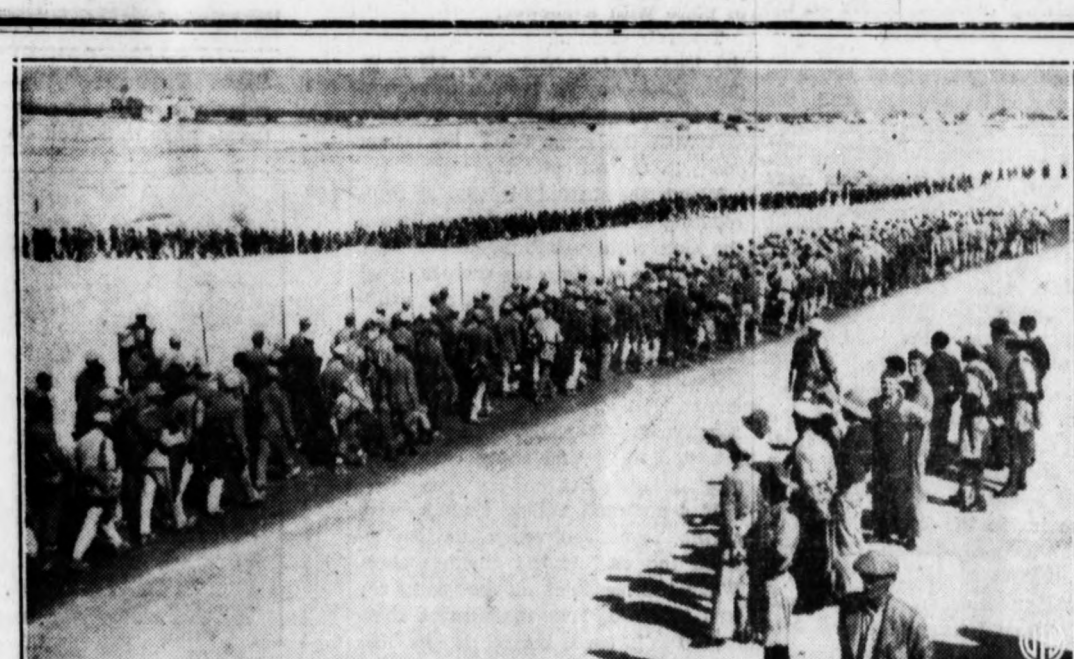

Rev. C. L. Prichard, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Prichard, and daughter Wanda, Mr. and Mrs. Dora McAninch.

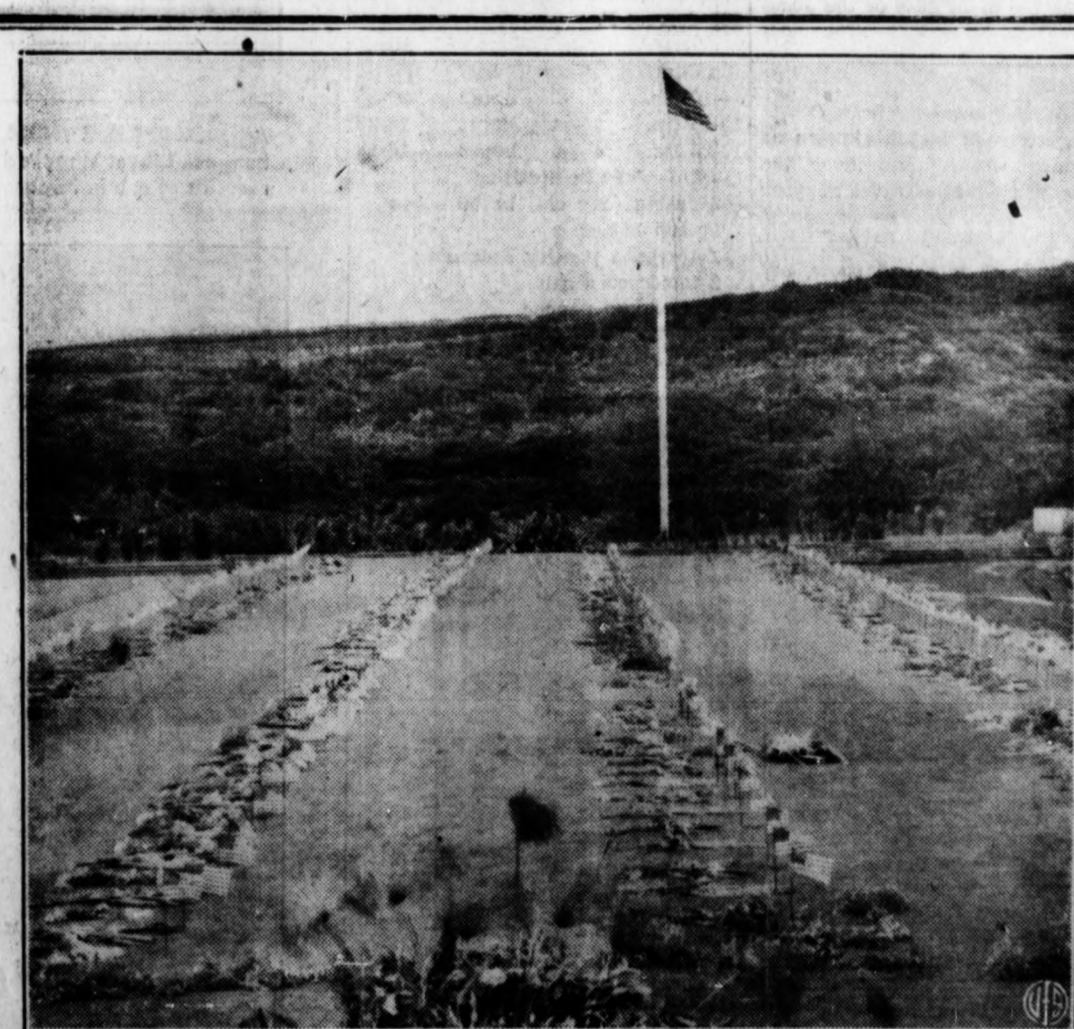

DITCHED GAS—Shortly after advent of national gasoline rationing, 6,000 gallons of gasoline poured into irrigation ditches when 19 cars of long freight train were derailed near Phoenix, Ariz. Here's scene of wreck. More than 300 yards of trackage were torn up.

RAID ON TRIPOLI—As strategic move on Tripoli, Nazi Marshal Rommel's last supply base in Libya, U. S. Army bombers set out to smash Spanish mole, or breakwater, at upper center of picture. How well they hit target in Tripoli harbor is shown by smoke column.

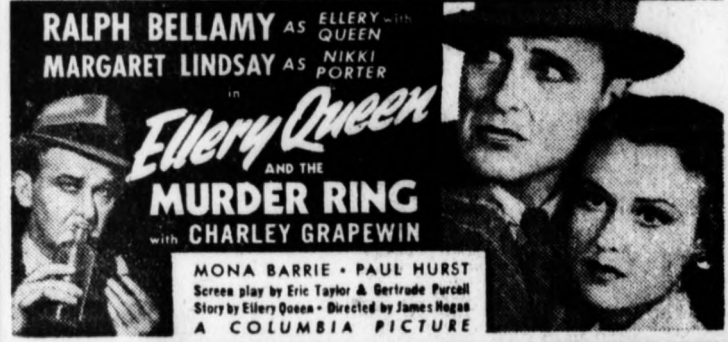

THEY STAYED BEHIND—Germans and Italians in long line were once part of Running Rommel's Afrika Korps in North Africa, but now they're prisoners in a British War Disposal Camp near Alexandria, Egypt. They're about to be fed by British.

HONORING THE FALLEN—Last resting places of soldiers who died at Hickam Field, Schofield Barracks and Pearl Harbor during Jap sneak raids year ago are decorated with flowers in Halawa Cemetery, Honolulu, on anniversary. Island florists contributed the native flowers.

BUS CRUSHED BY AVALANCHE; 22 LIVES LOST

ROADSIDE CLIFF FALLS ON BUS
NEAR ALIQUIPPA, PA.,
LAST NIGHT

ALIQUIPPA, Pa., Dec. 23.—(UP)—Police established early today that 22 persons died when a roadside cliff collapsed over a bus, burying it beneath tons of dirt and rock.

After eight hours of digging, the last of the smashed bodies were removed from the flattened vehicle. Four passengers who had been riding in the rear seat escaped with their lives, but were injured.

The towering 600 foot cliff along the Ohio river near here had been weakened by recent weather conditions. As the bus passed along the highway at its base, 200 tons of rock and dirt, including one boulder weighing approximately 60 tons, smashed down on the bus which was loaded with home-going steel workers and Christmas shoppers. The bus was en route from Aliquippa to Ambridge, Pa.

Except for a bit of the rear of the bus, the machine was at the bottom of a 10 to 12 foot heap of rubble. Volunteers with shovels were joined by police and, finally, by a mobile railroad crane. Because the bus was smashed almost flat, the rubble had to be entirely removed before all the bodies could be extricated.

The bus was pushed off the road by the avalanche and it and the rubble on top of it hung precariously over the 30 foot bank of the river, making the digging operations more difficult.

The four survivors all escaped through the rear window. They were Joseph Manko, Pittsburgh; Helen Phillips, 22, Aliquippa; John McCarthy, Monaca, Pa., and Robert Espy, South Heights, Pa. One of the dead was the driver, Dympro Karapin, Fair Oaks, Pa., who was working on his day off in order to do a favor for another driver.

Manko described the experiences of those inside the bus as follows: "It was a terrific crash. It sounded just like somebody hit a wash tub with a sledge hammer. I was knocked out. When I came to I saw light coming in a broken window (the rear window). I crawled out and somebody took me to a doctor."

The bus had left Aliquippa at 5:03 p. m. Its last stop before the accident was the main gate of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Mill. The avalanche hit it 10 minutes later.

The stretch of highway where the avalanche fell has long been known as dangerous—in fact it is known as "Deadman's Curve," and along the roadside are signs, "Travel at your own risk." There have been frequent slides over the past few years, after long periods of rain and snow, but none caused serious damage.

Rules Given For Roasting Turkey

ALSO GIVES RECIPE FOR STUFFING AND TIME CHART
FOR COOKING

Civilians on the home front as well as men in the armed services may have roast turkey for their Christmas dinner, for poultry is on the non-restricted list of meats and may be used without violating our pledge to the "Shake the Meat" with our soldiers, with our allies and with each other.

There is nothing tricky about preparing good roast turkey. Order early enough to be sure of getting the size and quality you want. Allow at least a pound for each person to be served. This will give sliceable meat and enough left over for two or more made dishes like turkey a la king and turkey hash for later meals.

Prepare the bird for roasting the day before Christmas and set it in the refrigerator or a cold place. Be sure the turkey is free from fine hairs that can be removed by singeing and from pin feathers and that it is clean inside and out. Rub the body cavity with salt and fill about two-thirds full of stuffing. This allows for expansion and makes a fluffier stuffing. The opening may be closed neatly by inserting two or three skewers, and lacing these with cord. Fill small cavity at the neck end. Fold skin over back and pin it in place with a skewer.

Truss by folding wing tips under the back of the bird. Tie them in place if necessary. Tie a cord around the drumsticks to hold them together and with the same cord tie them down to the tail piece.

Weigh the stuffed bird so the total roasting time can be reckoned. Brush the skin with melted butter or lard. Lay it breast down on a rack in an open roasting pan. Cheese cloth dipped in melted fat and laid over the turkey helps to retain the juices of the meat especially in an oven that is not well insulated. Roast at 325 degrees F. When half done turn breast side up and baste with drippings in the pan.

If a softened rather than a crisp surface is desired, cover the pan toward the end of the cooking time. When the leg joint moves easily the bird is done. If a roast meat thermometer is used, insert it in the thickest part of the thigh muscle. It should not touch bone. When the thermometer reaches 185 degrees F. the bird is well done.

Time table for roasting turkel at 325 degrees F.
